Use the ISO template to automatically correct these problems, available at http://www.iso.org/templates If not possible, at least imitate correct ISO style by referring to the model draft standard available at http://www.iso.org/rice-model	Accept
	Title		ed	Titles are inconsistent on cover page, contents page, and in Foreword.	Propose the following title throughout: Information technology — Business Operational View — Part 6: Technical introduction to eBusiness modelling	Accept
	Introduction		ed	Introduction shall be unnumbered unless it contains subclauses.	Delete clause number 0.	Accept
	General		ed	The document refers to itself as "this technical report", and "Part 6", and refers to other parts of ISO/IEC 15944 as "Part n".	Except in the introductory paragraphs to Clauses 2 and 3, the document shall refer to itself as "this part of ISO/IEC 15944". It shall refer to other parts of 15944 as "ISO/IEC 15944-n" and to the multipart series as "ISO/IEC 15944".	Accept
	Clause 2		ed	Documents listed in Clause 2 shall be those which the user is obliged to consult in order to apply 15944-6. This shall be clear from the way they are cited in 15944-6. Footnote 1 appears to assume an incorrect definition of "normative reference". A normative reference is one which is "normative" for the current document, NOT a referenced document which is normative in nature.	At present, it is not clear that any of the documents listed in Clause 2 needs to be consulted in order to apply 15944-6. They should be cited in a way which indicates that the user of 15944-6 is obliged to consult them or they should be moved from Clause 2 to a bibliography at the end of the document.	The user is obliged to consult the normative references listed in part2 in order to understand and apply 15994 Delete the footnote
